

Ros Canter and Allstar B took individual world gold in 2018

Farewell Alby: tributes to world champion Allstar B

TRIBUTES have been paid to Ros Canter's world champion Allstar B, who has died aged 17.

Ros and "Alby", owned by Ros and Caroline Moore, were on the British squad in the Aachen SAP Cup (1-2 July), when the gelding sustained an "irreparable" injury.

British Equestrian said the pair had a cross-country run-out, after which Allstar B pulled up lame. He was immediately attended to by vets. After further assessment at a local veterinary clinic, it was decided, owing to the nature of the injury, that euthanasia was the only option for his welfare.

"There are no words for the love and respect that I have for Alby," said Ros. "Time after time, he has shown his generosity, kindness and love of our sport. He has been such a huge part in building my career, and he will be missed by many."

Ros and Alby won individual and team gold at the 2018 World Games. They were on the gold medal-winning teams at the 2017 and 2021 Europeans, and had been named on the nominated entries list for the World Championships.

"The most generous and brave horse that I've ever had the pleasure to work with. He will be deeply missed," said Caroline. BM
